Re: Comment Period for Conflict of Interest Rule and Related Exemptions

Ladies and Gentlemen:

The American Bankers Association (“ABA”),<sup>i</sup> American Council of Life Insurers (“ACLI”),<sup>ii</sup> American Retirement Association,<sup>iii</sup> Association for Advanced Life Underwriting (“AALU”),<sup>iv</sup> Bond Dealers of America (“BDA”),<sup>v</sup> Financial Services Institute (“FSI”),<sup>vi</sup> Financial Services Roundtable (“FSR”),<sup>vii</sup> Investment Company Institute (“ICI”),<sup>viii</sup> Investment Program Association (“IPA”),<sup>ix</sup> Insured Retirement Institute (“IRI”),<sup>x</sup> National Association for Fixed Income Annuities (“NAFA”),<sup>xi</sup> National Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors (“NAIFA”),<sup>xii</sup> Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association (“SIFMA”),<sup>xiii</sup> The National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts (“NAREIT”),<sup>xiv</sup>

The Real Estate Roundtable,<sup>xv</sup> and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce<sup>xvi</sup> (collectively, the “Associations”) hereby request a 45-day extension of the comment period for the U.S. Department of Labor’s (the “Department”) proposals regarding the (1) Definition of the Term “Fiduciary”; Conflict of Interest Rule—Retirement Investment Advice,<sup>xvii</sup> (2) Best Interest Contract Exemption,<sup>xviii</sup> (3) Principal Transaction Exemption,<sup>xix</sup> and (4) related amendments to four existing prohibited transaction exemptions<sup>xx</sup> (collectively, the “Proposal”).

As the Department is aware, the Proposal comprises a voluminous amount of information and, if adopted, would represent a watershed event touching many facets of the financial services industry. The Proposal contains detailed new rules, a new exemption that will subject IRA advisers to increased legal risk for violations of strict prudence requirements, and a host of detailed changes to existing and widely-used exemptions. The industry will require time to assess its ability to comply with the conditions of the exemptions—which are fundamental to the ability of many financial services companies to continue to provide essential services to retirement investors, but which will require significant changes in policies and practices, as well as the production of expansive new disclosure.

The Associations and their respective members appreciate that, in response to comments received following the release of the predecessor proposal in October 2010 (the “2010 Predecessor Proposal”),<sup>xxi</sup> the Department has spent considerable time and effort to incorporate into the Proposal an avenue for advisers and financial institutions to continue to provide services to retirement investors and receive compensation through commission-based arrangements. Consistent with the Department’s request, the Associations and their respective members are committed to taking a thoughtful and well-informed approach to commenting on the Proposal. To do so, the Associations and their respective members need sufficient time to carefully analyze and understand the practical implications of the Proposal.

Given the Proposal’s breadth and the far reaching modifications that will be required to meet the conditions to the exemptive relief that the Department perceives as important for the protection of the interests of retirement investors, the 75-day comment period does not provide adequate time for the Associations and their respective members to determine whether they can effectively service the needs of retirement investors within the framework presented in the Proposal.

Our concerns with the 75-day comment period are supported by the history of the Proposal. The 2010 Predecessor Proposal (1) was shorter and less complicated than the Proposal; (2) did not include any exemptions, as opposed to the Proposal, which has two new exemptions and amendments to four existing exemptions; and (3) contained an economic analysis that was a fraction as long as the economic analysis regarding the Proposal.<sup>xxii</sup> Yet not only did the Department provide a 90-day comment period with respect to the 2010 Predecessor Proposal, but the Department also recognized that 90 days was insufficient, later adding two additional weeks to the comment period. In connection with the extension, the Department stated:

“We recognize the significance of the proposed rule for plans, participants, beneficiaries and many plan service providers and therefore believe the steps we are announcing today will ensure broad consideration of all the issues and interests in this regulation.”<sup>xxiii</sup>

The Associations applauded the Department’s decision to establish a 104-day comment period with respect to the 2010 Predecessor Proposal, and to have a hearing and a post-hearing comment period in 2011. In that context, the Associations are very concerned about the much shorter 75-day period provided with respect to a much longer and more complicated Proposal.

For these reasons, we are requesting a 45-day extension of the comment period. The Associations believe that a 120-day comment period would lead to more thoughtful and comprehensive input, which will ultimately increase the possibility for a more workable final rule that would benefit all parties.
